Why Join the IntLaw Moot?

About the IntLaw Investment Arbitration Moot

Investment arbitration occupies a central position in international law. Its practice increasingly engages complex disputes arising from diverse industries and evolving regulatory frameworks.

Against this backdrop, the IntLaw Moot has been designed as a structurally advanced and practice-oriented global competition.

It seeks to provide rigorous training in written and oral advocacy, expand meaningful global participation, and align legal education with the realities of contemporary investment arbitration.

GLOBAL PARTICIPATION

No cap on participating teams, enabling broad and inclusive global participation.

CONTEMPORARY CASES

The Moot Problem addresses disputes across current and emerging sectors and includes a procedural development 10 days before the oral rounds, a unique feature among all other investment arbitration moots.

INSTITUTIONAL STABILITY

Held annually in London, which ensures predictability and a leading arbitration setting.
